Portraits in oil on fine gessobord (ready to display on a mini gallery easel, included, or can be framed by you all prices plus p&p)

Gessobords are amazing surfaces, more robust than canvases. The surface reflects colour beautifully, giving a certain vibrancy, and is very resistant to discolouration over time. They can be framed, but being very rigid, can also be displayed free standing.

How to book your portrait in oil

You just need to let me know what you would like, either via Facebook Messenger, email or text. We will discuss your requirements, what kind of finished result you are looking for, your budget, and if I am the right artist to paint for you. If so, we will agree a price and I will book a slot to paint for you. I am currently booked up about 4 months ahead, so there is a little wait.

Nearer the time I will send a reminder for you to provide me with a great reference photo (via email, text or messenger) and together we will make sure you are happy with how I will approach your portrait. I will keep you updated with progress. It usually takes about 2 weeks for me to complete each painting, and about 2 weeks once it is complete for the oil paint to dry.

I will ship the painting to you with an invoice for payment by bank transfer or PayPal on receipt. It will be gift wrapped and safely packaged and will include a little information about care and framing. I ship using Royal Mail or Parcel Force.
